

International Membership of the Korean Society of Radiology

Aims

- To enhance global communication of KSR with other national and regional radiological societies
- To share academic knowledge and information of KSR with global partners

Benefits

- Free Membership Due
- Membership-fee registration of Korean Congress of Radiology (KCR)
- Free online access to Korean Journal of Radiology (KJR)
- Free online access to KSR website
- Free subscription to KSR news
- Free access to KSR E-learning system
- Prior opportunity for KSR fellowship

Requirements for International Membership

- International Membership is only for non-Korean experts.
- International Members are radiologist, medical Physicists, radiologic scientists, and experts who have a related degree of radiology.
- International Members are recommended to attend Korean Congress of Radiology.
- International Members shall be approved by the Board of Directors.

Application for International Membership

- Application by e-mail (office@radiology.or.kr) with fill-up of application form (The application form can be downloaded from the KSR webpage.)
- Application on KSR webpage (<http://www.radiology.kr>)

Maintenance of Membership

- International Membership is valid for three years.

- International Member should submit renewal form of International Membership to KSR via webpage before termination.
- International Membership could be terminated on written or email request from the member.
- International membership could be terminated by agreement in KSR board of directors, in case of one's hazardous activity against KSR.

Application of KSR international membership via webpage

1. Open <http://www.radiology.kr>
2. Click "ABOUT KSR" – "Membership"

